DESIGN LUMINARIES

There are many things that keeps us awake in the night – distilling that into a simplistic anecdote will be misleading – But, we understand and fully comprehend the 'limits of Architecture

How do you formulate ideas/ plan / concepts for your design? Kindly elaborate on the process?

LT + MA : For us.. there is no specific programmatic blueprint for this process.. It derives out of multitudes of ideas, client brief , site, climate, economics, context.. etc are a few of them.

We often scavenge on unrealised projects for good ideas, hence competitions form a large part of our body of work

How has the field of architecture & design changed over the years? Do designers need to develop certain skills today?

LT + MA : It has and architects needs to develop all kinds of skills apart from being a good designer . But 70% of the problem will be solved, if you are a good designer and sensitive to the context.

Your takeaway or lesson learnt from Architectural discourse

LT + MA : extended learning Happy to learn !

Any material you'd like to experiment with

LT + MA : All kinds of materials... including the age-old !
